

YENEPOYA NURSING COLLEGE
DEPARTMENT OF CHILD HEALTH NURSING
REPORT ON GUEST TALK
BREAST MILK BANK: A BOON TO MOMS AND PRETERM NEONATES

The department of Child Health Nursing organized a guest lecture on Breast Milk Bank: A boon to moms and preterm neonates on 13.4.2022 from 11-12noon via Google Meet platform. Dr. Sreenath S Manikanti, Senior Consultant Neonatologist, Kauvery Hospital, Bangalore was the resource person. The program started with an introductory remark by Dr. Umarani J, Vice principal, Yenepoya Nursing College. The speaker enlightened the participants on meaning, aims and objectives of milk bank. He also explained the collection, storage and distribution of breast milk, identification and selection of donors and challenges of maintaining the breast milk bank.

The session was moderated by Mrs. Renita Priya Dsouza, Associate Professor Department of Child Health Nursing. Total 100 delegates participated in the guest lecture [ 50 UG students, 25 PG students, 10 faculty and 15 external members ]

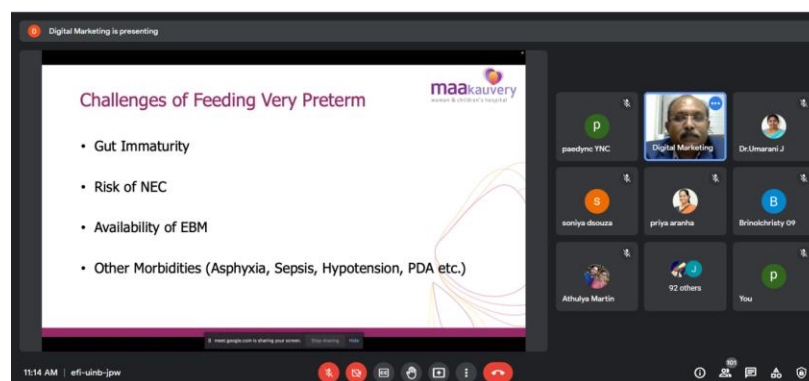

Fig 1 : Screenshot of the Session

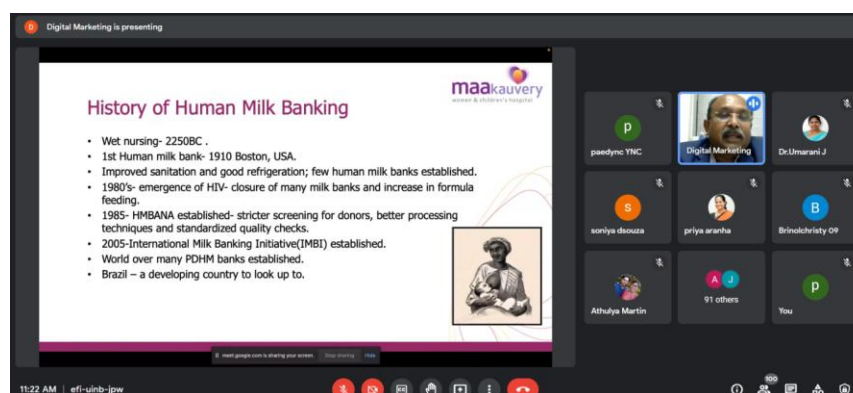

Fig 2 : Screenshot of the Session